

Unilearn – Electronic Discussion List

Unilearn began in June 1995 at the University of Western Sydney, the brainchild of Peter Ninnes. Its aim was to provide an electronic discussion forum for both Australasian and New Zealand academic skills advisers/lecturers. John Grierson took over administration of the list in 1997-2003, and it is currently administered by Dai Fei Yang, University of Western Sydney. The 1995 'list' of 44 subscribers has since grown to over 500 (2004), with subscribers from the United Kingdom, Canada, South Africa and Zambia.
