APPLIED LINGUISTICS ASSOCIATION OF AUSTRALIA (ALAA)

The Association was established at a national congress of applied linguists held at the University of Newcastle in August, 1976, and is affiliated with the Association Internationale de Linguistique Appliquée (AILA) founded in 1965.

The aims of ALAA are to promote the application of linguistics to:

1. The methodology of teaching, learning and testing languages (mother tongue and foreign languages);
2. multicultural education in Australian society, including Aboriginal, migrant and other groups;
3. language teaching technology;
4. problems of language and the individual (including language acquisition and language dysfunction);
5. problems of language and society (including language planning and language standardisation);
6. the theory and practice of translation;
7. the analysis and interpretation of spoken and written discourse (including stylistics, poetics and pragmatics);
8. the study of language in relation to other semiotic systems (including film and theatre, mime and dance, codes and ciphers, costume and ornament, mythology and folklore).

Membership of the Applied Linguistics Association of Australia is open to all people in Australia, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea, or other countries interested in any of the above fields on the payment of an annual subscription fee. The fee will entitle members to receive the Association's journal Australian Review of Applied Linguistics, its newsletters and other special publications, to register for the Association's Annual Congress and to participate in other activities, such as workshops, organised by the Association.
