WELCOME

The University of Missouri System has provided teaching, research and service to Missouri and the nation since 1839. The university was the first publicly supported institution of higher education established in the Louisiana Purchase territory. Its philosophy of education was shaped in accordance with the ideals of Thomas Jefferson, who was an early proponent of higher education. Today, the University of Missouri System is one of the nation's largest and most prestigious public research universities, with more than 64,000 students on four campuses and hundreds of thousands served statewide through University of Missouri Extension and University of Missouri Health Care.

› Letter from URMIA President Vincent Morris: Risk Management Today and What URMIA Can Do for You

As you respond to the unique impacts that the economic crisis is having on your institution, your company, or your clients, we want to thank you for your continued participation in and support of URMIA. We also want to highlight ways that we are working to help you respond to this crisis and to provide you with extended member benefits. Read on to learn more about what URMIA can do for you.

› URMIA Survey Results Available to Members: 2009 H1N1 Virus ("Swine Flu") and Commencement

From May 1-May 6, 2009, URMIA surveyed its institutional members to learn how the 2009 H1N1 flu ("swine flu") was impacting commencement ceremonies or other end-of-semester events. Nearly 90 URMIA members responded. This survey provides a snapshot in time of the impacts of this new strain of flu on special events on college and university campuses. Click here to view the survey summary.

URMIA member International SOS will also be holding a free Influenza H1N1 Update webinar on Friday, May 8 at 2:00 pm Eastern. If you would like more information or are interested in attending, click here.

› Registration Is Now Open for URMIA's 40th Annual Conference!

URMIA's 2009 Annual Conference, Tuning Your Risk Management Skills, will provide information and skills that every level of risk management and insurance professional can use at their own institutions or companies to take advantage of new opportunities and face challenges. To make the conference as accessible as possible, registration rates will not increase from last year's rates. Please also take a look at URMIA's expanded Annual Conference Scholarship Program and apply today if you are eligible!

We hope to see you at the 2009 Annual Conference in Nashville, Tennessee, from September 12-16. Click here to register, visit the conference website to view the agenda and breakout session schedule, or contact the National Office by e-mail or at 812-855-6683 if you have further questions.
