

Islamic Banking and Finance Symposium

Faculty of Law and Management - School of Economics and Finance

When: Monday 6 July 2009

Time: 9:00am – 5:30pm

Where: Intercontinental Melbourne
The Rialto Hotel

The current global financial crisis together with the growing demand for shariah compliant products and services calls for an active response from industry as well as academia. Taking a step in this direction, we are pleased to announce a special symposium supporting the theme of 'Islamic Banking and Finance and the Current Global Financial Crisis'.

This is a joint effort across industry-academia to discuss issues related to Islamic banking and finance including performance of Islamic banks and financial institutions in the current financial crisis. This symposium will also explore opportunities and challenges in the area of Islamic banking and finance, particularly in Australia.

The high profile line up of confirmed international and local speakers include:

Dr Salman Syed Ali

Staff Economist, Islamic Development Bank /
Islamic Research and Training Institute, Saudi Arabia

Mr Mohammed Amin

Head of Islamic Finance, PricewaterhouseCoopers,
United Kingdom

Mr Saadat Muzaffar
