APPLICATION FOR WOMEN'S NETWORK AWARD 2007

The La Trobe University Women's Network Award was established to support female postgraduate students on the Bundoora campus. The Award will target disadvantaged women students who are continuing postgraduate studies and who have demonstrated involvement in community or student activities.

The Women's Network award is awarded annually and takes the form of either a book voucher from the University Bookshop, to the value of $250 or a conference reimbursement to the value of $250.

Applications are due on the 6th of July 2007, and the prize will be awarded at the University Prizes and Awards Ceremony.

Eligibility

Applicants for this award must be a female postgraduate student with sound academic results and evidence of continuing studies at the Bundoora campus. Applicants must be able to demonstrate involvement in community or student activities.

Applications are encouraged from women who belong to a student equity group, that is, students from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds; students from a non-English speaking background; students with disabilities; students from rural and/or isolated areas; Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students; or women in non-traditional fields of study. Both Australian and international female postgraduate students are eligible to apply.
