Insurance Waiver Criteria

The University of Oregon requires that all international students have health insurance to help cover unexpected medical expenses that may arise. All international students are automatically enrolled in and billed for the UO Student Health Benefits Plan. International students with existing insurance which meets or exceeds the university's standards may request a waiver.

Helping students stay healthy is our top priority, knowing that wellness contributes to academic and personal success. In addition to our board-certified primary care team, our staff includes a variety of specialties encompassing mental health, various therapies, and health promotion. Our mission is to provide exceptional culturally competent health services and public health leadership that enhances personal success and optimizes health and wellness for a diverse campus community.

Waiver Criteria

To be approved for an insurance waiver, you must provide proof of health coverage which meets the following criteria:

- Coverage must begin on or before the first day of the academic term in which you are enrolled and extend through the entire term, including any UO approved vacation or medical leave terms
- No maximum benefit for coverage (there can be no cap on the amount of coverage)
- Deductible of $500 or less per accident or illness per year
