Using the ASDetect Mobile application

You must follow any policies made available to you within the application. The application was launched to benefit the community by empowering parents and caregivers to assess the social attention and communication behaviours of their children younger than 2½ years (between 11 and 30 months).

Please do not misuse our Services. For example, don't interfere with our Services or try to access them using a method other than the interface and the instructions that we provide. We may suspend or cease providing our Services to you if you do not comply with our terms or policies.

By using our services you also agree not to (1) use or attempt to use another user's account without authorisation, or impersonate any person or entity; (2) conduct an assessment for a child without legal rights or without parents' consent; (3) violate, or encourage any conduct that would violate, any applicable law or regulation or would give rise to civil liability; (4) be fraudulent, false, misleading, or deceptive; (5) use the application in any manner that, in our sole discretion, is objectionable or restricts or inhibits any other person from using the application, or which may expose us or our users to any harm or liability of any type.

Using our Services does not give you ownership of any intellectual property rights to our application or the content you access. You may not use content from our Services unless you obtain permission from La Trobe University or otherwise permitted by law. These terms do not grant you the right to use any branding or logos used in our Services

In connection with your use of the Services, we may send you emails relating to your assessments, account and other information. You may opt out of some of those communications but remember some of these communications are important for you to receive such as receiving your assessment results.
