SAD REALITIES YET HOPEFUL FUTURES: HOW CAN TRAUMA AND DEVELOPMENTAL THEORIES INFORM PRACTICE

Moderated by Professor Sarah MacLean

Thursday 25th September

12.30pm - 1.30pm

Online via Teams

The La Trobe University Discipline of Social Work and Social Policy, supported by the Care Economy Research Institute (CERI), invite you to join us at an online seminar to hear about some of the important research completed by Dr Annette Jackson from our partner, Berry Street Yooralla in the area of children and families impacted by abuse, neglect and family violence.

GUEST SPEAKER

Dr Annette Jackson

Director Research and Practice, Berry Street Yooralla, Adjunct Professor La Trobe University (BSW, MSW, Diploma Therapeutic Life Story Work, PhD)

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/annettejackson85866836/>

Annette has worked for 4 decades with infants, children and families who have experienced trauma and neglect. She has worked across child protection, out-of-home care, family preservation and therapeutic services. Annette has published in peer-reviewed journals and books on topics such as family reunification, neglect, disability, and trauma-informed practice. Annette's PhD was on developing a theory of change about how to help children recover from the impacts of neglect.
