In SCI2COP, we utilise virtual workplace experiences to illustrate that creative problem-solving in the workplace utilises a range of skills and capabilities. We worked with La Trobe alumni to develop video case studies which discuss a complex problem encountered in their STEM workplace. Students work collaboratively to understand the problem and generate solutions, and by doing so, raise their awareness of what it’s like to work in STEM.

Teaching team: Dr Fiona Bird