This year's International Federation of Social Workers theme is 'Strengthening Intergenerational Solidarity for Enduring Wellbeing'.

We've asked four social workers to share their views on intergenerational equity, strengths and challenges in social work practice and the future of our profession.

Join La Trobe students, staff and our colleagues from different sectors for a spirited intergenerational discussion, with time for audience questions and comments.

BYO lunch and catch up with us after the panel discussion. We'll provide tea, coffee and biscuits.
