Chart Form celebrates a data aesthetic and the visual language used to communicate information. Presenting the work of four artists whose work evokes flow charts and process maps, the exhibition offers ways of understanding implied meaning generated by formalist tropes. Working with the styles, geometry, measurements and connective lines of graphic language imbues these works with a sense of imparted knowledge. There is the feeling that the creators have processed information with a view to sharing that with an audience, making them conduit, interlocutor and translator.
