

Allowable Materials

CALCULATORS
01	Programmable or non-programmable calculator permitted
02	Non-programmable calculator permitted
DICTIONARIES
03	Unmarked, non-electronic English dictionary
04	Students from non-English speaking backgrounds can bring unmarked, non-electronic translation dictionaries into the examination (non-subject specific)
05	Students from non-English speaking backgrounds can bring unmarked, except for underlining, highlighting and tabbing non-electronic translation dictionaries into the examination (non-subject specific)
NOTES
06	One A4 page of handwritten notes, 2 sided - no photocopies
07	Two A4 pages of handwritten notes, 2 sided - no photocopies
08	Three A4 pages of handwritten notes, 2 sided - no photocopies
09	Own typed or handwritten notes, 2 sided - no photocopies
10	All lecture, tutorial or class notes handwritten or photocopies
11	One A4 formulae sheet, 2 sided
BOOKS
12	Open book, including electronic dictionaries
13	Open book, excluding all electronic media devices
14	Subject specific (Refer to LMS for more information)
The use of AI, wi-fi or Bluetooth enabled devices, wearable devices or generative AI tools during an examination is prohibited by default. It is considered an act of academic misconduct to have, access or use any material, computer program or item not explicitly authorised under the instructions for that examination or within exam adjustments related to a LAP plan, whether or not it is with the intention of using it to gain an advantage.	